Statement from Macomb County Public Works Commissioner Candice S. Miller on Sue McCormick's resignation as CEO of the Great Lakes Water Authority:

"Sue McCormick did the right thing in resigning. The GLWA has an opportunity now to do a nationwide search for an operational expert who can get the most out of existing infrastructure assets and advocate for the investment needed to position our region properly for the future. The independent investigation will most likely show other management failures, which will need to be addressed going forward."
