Macomb County Circuit Court to celebrate Adoption Day on November 24, 2015

Macomb County Circuit Court will celebrate Adoption Day on Tuesday, November 24, 2015. The event begins at 8:30 a.m. and will be held on the second floor of the Circuit Court Building, 40 N. Main Street, Mount Clemens, Michigan.

Adoption Day is a Thanksgiving holiday tradition held in courts across the state in order to celebrate with families who are adopting children and to reach out to families in Macomb County who may be thinking about adoption. This event provides an opportunity to educate the community about the many children in the foster care system who are waiting to find an adoptive home, as well as, to watch adoptions being confirmed by circuit court judges.

Michigan Supreme Court Justice David F. Viviano, who will be taking part in the event, said, "Adoption Day is my favorite day in the courtroom because there are no arguments or disagreements. I look forward to seeing the happy faces, smiles, and even tears of joy. This day reminds us all that when we work together, a loving home can be a reality for every child."

On behalf of the Circuit Bench, Chief Judge James M. Biernat said, "It is an honor for the Court to play such an integral role in the lives of children and families. Being able to give a child a forever home is one of the most rewarding things that we do as judges. It is a privilege for the Macomb County Circuit Court to be a part of this exciting celebration that is happening across the state and I hope that the community will join us at this important event."
