Macomb County launches tool to track conditions and costs of primary roads

A crowd of about 100 invited guests gathered with County Executive Mark A. Hackel at Macomb Community College today to see a new online mapping tool revealed.

“Macomb County Roads: Conditions and Costs” is a web-based portal that provides a searchable map of the roads maintained by Macomb County. Currently, there are 805 lane miles rated as being in poor condition and 44 bridges in need of repair. The cost to fix them all is estimated at $1.06 billion.

“This new tool makes it easy for the public to learn more about the condition of our roads and the estimated costs to bring them into good condition,” said Hackel.

The portal also includes information about currently available funds to fix the roads; a list of planned projects for 2018; and information about how roads are maintained and preserved. Other resources include information about Act 51 funding and state transportation reports.

The new online mapping tool can be found on www.MacombGov.org
