Man Arraigned on Multiple Counterfeit Charges

Mount Clemens, MI - On March 1, 2023 Cornell Hayes allegedly fled Warren Police Officers during an attempted traffic stop. After a short police pursuit Hayes left his vehicle and fled on foot. The defendant was later found hiding under a bed in a residence on St. Clement St. in Warren. After a search of the defendant's vehicle, police found multiple driver's licenses and credit cards with the defendant's photo but different names.

Hayes is charged with Fleeing a Police Officer Third Degree (5 year felony,) Receiving and Concealing a Motor Vehicle (5 year felony,) Counterfeit/Forged State Identification Card with Intent to Deliver/Possessing (5 year felony,) Identity Theft (5 year felony,) three counts of Stealing/Retaining without consent a financial transaction device (4 year felony.)

Cornell Hayes was arraigned in Warren District Court today. District Court Judge Steve Bieda set his bond at 250,000.00 cash/surety, no 10% and upon release he must wear a steel GPS tether.

The defendant's probable cause hearing was scheduled for Tuesday, March 14, 2023 at 8:45am with his preliminary exam scheduled for Tuesday, March 21, 2023 at 8:45am in front of District Court Judge Suzanne Faunce.
